Challenges Issues- Floods 2022 response

- Humanitarian agencies have to scale down their response interventions due to lack of funding.
- The availability of information on relief initiatives is not easily available due to lack of central coordination mechanism.
- Various partners are involved in response activities they are either not willing or do not have consolidated information at one place making it extremely difficult to get a clear picture of amount of relief being provided to the affected communities.
- Collection of recovery data from stakeholders is still a challenge.
- Issuance of NOC to local partners is still a challenge in some areas especially in Balochistan and KP.
